8-317 Rebuilding of Turnover Bridge.jpg	Lucas Archive	8-317 Rebuilding of Turnover Bridge. Turnover Bridge No 82 near Kilby was extensively repaired in 2002. The canal had to be drained for a time for this work. The towpath changes sides here and reverts back at the Wistow-Kibworth Road. It is said this was done to appease some landowners who did not want the towpath to be sited on their side of the canal.

10-2 Tythorn farmyard 1964.jpg	Lucas Archive	10-2 Tythorn farmyard 1964 Tythorn Farmhouse, near Kilby Bridge, was situated in a remote spot near the canal overlooking Kilby; It never had a made up access road. A semi mansion built in the late 18th century, it had been home to generations of the Langham family who were prosperous farmers, largely due to supplying prime beef to the expanding London market. By 1964, the date of the photograph it was condemned and then demolished by order of the Council. The discovery of a Neolithic axe head nearby proves the age of the site.

32-444 Kilby Bridge farmhouse, off Durnford Road, South Wigston.jpg		32-444 Kilby Bridge farmhouse, off Durnford Road, South Wigston Modern photograph of Kilby Bridge farmhouse, off Durnford Road, which is believed to date from the early 1800's. During the 1860's Michael Taylor was the farmer and his name lives on in Taylor's Bridge over the canal, and the road name in the development off Lansdowne Grove. His land stretched both sides of the canal and he would have used this bridge frequently. The house is now a private dwelling.
