

The Tin Chapel South Wigston

The Tin Chapel, South Wigston's first church, so called because it was built of corrugated iron. It was rebuilt in 1892. The style was the same as Wigston Magna Adult School in Bull Head Street. Thomas Ingram of Abington House was a benefactor of St Thomas Church and rumour has it that the choice of Patron Saint was connected with his name.

St Thomas Church with the old Tin Chapel still standing next door.
